BLOOD STILL OWED AT MERCY HOSPITAL

Currently there are three ways in which blood owed to the blood bank at Mercy Hospital can be repaid:

1. Contribute blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile on December 1st or have someone replace for you.

2. If unable to give blood or secure a donor for the December Bloodmobile, come to the collection center and give information regarding a future donor.

3. Reimburse hospital blood bank, $25.00 for each pint of blood received, to repay donors hospital was able to secure for you when you needed the blood.

More than 160 pints of blood are still owed to the hospital blood bank for one year prior to August 1st, when Crawford County became a part of the Red Cross Blood Bank.

Hospital Administration urges all former patients who still owe an indebtedness to the blood-bank to make every effort to secure donors for the Red Cross Bloodmobile. Help make it possible to have blood available for other patients as it was for you when you needed it most.

RED CROSS DRIVE SHORT OF GOAL

Working at the machine are Colleen Southwell, Mary McNamara, Janice Trudgeon and Ann Dosch. The proceeds from the paper are used to aid the helpless and needy in foreign lands.

PARENTS INVITED

Open House At Grayling High School Set For Dec. 7, At 7:30

Parents are cordially invited to visit the Grayling High school at Open House on December 7, at 7:30 p. m.

This is an opportunity for all parents to look over the many changes that have taken place in the high school building. A great deal of new furniture and equipment has been purchased since the opening of school.

The new library and study hall should be one of the "must" places to visit. Other interesting changes in the school are the new science departments, language lab, commercial department, the home-making and industrial arts departments and the art department.

The students are very well pleased about the addition of 150 new lockers. This has raised the total lockers to 256. Before the new lockers arrived there were 4 or 5 students using one locker. At the present time there are two students using a locker.

"LUNCH BREAK"

The High School hot lunch program will get under way next Tuesday, December 1st. All high school students will have the opportunity to enjoy a hot lunch to the sound of their favorite music via the juke box. Food planned in mind will be served under the supervision of Mrs. Leonard Knibbs, who holds a degree in Institutional Management and who was recently hired by the School Board.

There is no substitute for a good hot lunch for anyone, and especially for the student for the growing years. The sack lunch or hamburger and coke is not the answer or the fuel necessary to keep teenagers alert and filled until the evening meal. Parents are urged to have their children participate in this program. Save the sack lunches for picnics.

It is virtually impossible to provide a lunch for 250, nor is there 4 or 5 hours of energy in the sack lunch to hold the student until he goes home from school. Hot lunches will cost 30c a day or $1.25 for the week. In the future additional servings will be available at a small extra charge. With type-A lunch requirements being fulfilled certain types of food will be introduced into the menu as a health educational measure towards eating habits. Food menus will include more baked foods and desserts as facilities become available. To the best of ability and conditions, substitutes of foods on the planned menu will be held to a minimum.

Give your young family members a lunch break and watch the change in their eating habits after school, their afternoon class grades and their winter health record, plus hearing about the fun that only teenagers can have when enough time, enough food, enough friends and enough music are provided.

Michigan Con. Gas Plans Further North Extensions

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company announced today that it will file an application within two weeks with the Michigan Public Service Commission for authority to extend natural gas service to 26 communities in the northern tip of the Lower Peninsula.

The utility said the $4.5 million project will require two pipe lines — one 62 miles long from Gaylord to Mackinaw City, and the other 31 miles long from Alpena to Rogers City. Michigan Consolidated Gas extended its system to Gaylord and Alpena last summer as part of a $15.5 million project in northeastern Michigan.

The company will also construct approximately 80 miles of distribution lines to supply an estimated 4,000 customers in the communities.

The pipe line from Gaylord to Mackinaw City will also supply gas to Indian River, Vanderbilt, Wolverine, Cheboygan and residents in 13 townships. The pipe line to Rogers City will supply Posen and customers in seven townships.

Deer Hunter Succumbs To Coronary Attack

Clarence J. Barr, 58, of Port Huron was pronounced dead on arrival at Grayling Mercy Hospital on Tuesday afternoon, November 17. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Barr, who owned a cabin near Eldorado, had just shot a deer when the attack came. He had a history of heart trouble. He was driven to the hospital by his son who said his father was alive when he placed him in the car. Death apparently came during the trip to Grayling.

The remains were returned to Port Huron by the Albert Falk and Son Funeral Home of that city.

TO VISIT HERE

Sister Mary Theodora and Sister Mary Stella, former administrators of Mercy Hospital, will be visiting at the hospital over the Thanksgiving holiday.

The Sisters will be available for visitors Thanksgiving day and Friday from 2 to 4 p. m. Both Sisters reside at St. Gertrude's Convent.

Good Start For Deer Hunters Reported

LANSING -- Michigan deer hunters, estimated at more than 500,000, got off to a good start with their 1964 season in spite of wet weather which forced most of them out of the woods during the afternoon of their Nov. 15 opener in the eastern Upper Peninsula and the entire Lower Peninsula.

Conservation Department field reports indicate that hunting success was running better than a year ago above the Straits, from normal to high in the northern Lower Peninsula, and slightly below last season in the southern part of the state when the rains came.

How close hunters come to the Department's pre-season kill estimate of more than 130,000 whitetails depends pretty much upon the weather during the next weekend when gun pressure should again build up to high levels.

Already pointing toward a good kill during the early stage of the season is the fact that 1 1/4-year-old bucks have made up about 70 percent of nearly 3,800 deer examined at the Department's four roadside biological checking stations in the Lower Peninsula.

Bucks in this age class account for the biggest share of each season's take. When they represent more than two-thirds of the total bag, it's a sign that hunters have had better than average success.

STUDY SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

James L. Boroughs and A. B. Nelson of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction school lunch service were in Grayling November 10th to study the lunch program. They had lunch at the new elementary school and at one o'clock met with the local lunch committee, Mrs. Vernon Gardner, Mrs. Ray Elsey, Mrs. B. E. Henig, Mrs. Richard DuBois and Mrs. Eli Beery, Superintendent Joseph Stripe and the newly appointed school lunch manager, Mrs. Leonard Knibbs.

Mrs. Knibbs was chosen by the board, from the list of applicants, as she holds a degree in Institutional Management from Michigan State University. She is to supervise the school lunch program including planning menus, buying supplies from government surplus wholesalers, oversee and instruct cooking for the program, instruct student helpers and keep the necessary records.

As the program is federally subsidized, the types of meals served must conform to rules and regulations laid down by the federal government.

The menu for December 1 through 4 is as follows: Goulash, omelette, whole wheat bread and butter, peaches and milk; turkey, potatoes and gravy, cranberries, lima beans, bread, butter and milk; Barbecue beef on a bun, green beans, carrot sticks, apple crisp and milk; macaroni and cheese, bread and butter, peas, apples and milk.

4-H Work Part Of Extension Service

One of the most important responsibilities of the Cooperative Extension Service is the 4-H program. The 4-H Clubs are the youth programs for both rural and urban communities. In order to establish and continue a 4-H program, adult leadership will be needed.

The Extension Service is able to furnish materials, leadership training, and guidance.

Crawford County has been selected by the Extension Service as a pilot county for a special 4-H program effort. Representatives from Michigan State University have spent considerable time in the county attempting to organize a 4-H program. Progress has been rewarding with 3-4-H project clubs now operating under the leadership of Josephine Kersch, Rt. 1, Roscommon, Shirley McVors, Grayling and Nila Moggo, Grayling, early Wilcox of Grayling. A total of 22 girls are working on projects in Clothing and Knitting.

In addition, 5th grade school classes in Frederic and Grayling St. Mary's are working on a 4-H project in Basic Conservation and Forestry. Mrs. Clayton Hildebrandt is now serving as Chairman of the County 4-H Council.

Cooperative Extension Service bulletins are now available in the lobby of the Crawford County Courthouse. If you desire specific subject matter bulletins that are not available in the display please drop a post card to your County Extension Office in Mio.

A LOOK AT THE DEER HERD HISTORY

BY DAVID D. OLSON
County Extension Director

As the citizens of Oscoda and Crawford counties well know, the deer season is now with us. This fact may mean a little wait in line for groceries, gas and other services, but it also means dollars being pumped into Northern Michigan's economy.

The army of some 500,000 deer hunters spend large amounts of money in the pursuit of the elusive whitetail. People living in the deer areas come to accept the hunting season as a way of life. Old friends suddenly show up looking for a tip to a good hunting area. Everyone is concerned over the weather; will it rain, or will it snow? Now there is too much snow and it's too cold to hunt!

Deer management in Michigan has certainly seen its ups and downs. There are five issues that come up to the public attention that arouse more controversy.

The number of deer in Michigan has varied considerably over the years. Prior to 1850 the mature forest was poor habitat for deer. The early lumbering days provided ideal habitat for the whitetail. Plenty of low young growth meant plenty of deer. The first deer boom was on!

By 1890 clear cutting of hardwoods coupled with continuous fires and commercial deer slaughter reduced deer range to open grass lands and few deer. The bottom of the bucket was reached in 1900 to 1910.

Forest fire control, abundance of good deer range and hunting restrictions combined to build up the herd over the next 40 years.

Starvation became a problem in some areas, but went relatively unnoticed until the winter of 1950 to 1951 when over 50,000 deer died from starvation alone.

Arguments and disagreements ranged the state and in 1949 the first special season was established. Other special seasons have followed and much of the debate has subsided.

Michigan has over 600,000 white-tails and the total harvest since 1959 has ranged from a low of 80,000 animals in 1961 to 126,000 in 1963.

Sound deer management is the best method of avoiding the tremendous ups and downs in deer populations since 1850.

Multiple use planning on both public and private lands will assure future generations of an abundance of deer, timber resources and recreation areas.

Boyer City Ramblers Here

With their first basketball game of the season out of the way this week, the Grayling Vikings begin a grim week's workout before play in the Northern Class C Conference gets underway.

Grayling will open the loop battle hosting the Boyer City Ramblers here on Friday night, December 4th. The Ramblers are expected to lack size this year but under Coach Paul Pfahler they always turn in great games.

The entire league looks for good seasons as all have several returning lettermen. East Jordan appears to have the makings of a great team this season while Harbor Springs has nearly the same quintet back that won the District title last year.

Grayling has plenty of experience and, of course, lot of height with their pivot man, Tom Lick pushing towards the seven foot mark. Mancelona has returning Dave Prudden, A. J. and Barry Moeke and Ron Grody.

Charlevoix has Dave Norton at 6 foot, 5 inches, Doug Winell, Tom Maxwell, Randy Carey, Dave Smith and Jim Uhrick. Del Terrill, a regular last season is also back as is Warren Belding who saw a lot of action last year.

The Pellston Hornets also have several returning lettermen from a team that finished in a three way tie for the conference championship last year with Gaylord and Charlevoix.

With most teams in the conference boasting of returning, experienced players, play in the loop this winter should prove to be the best in many a year and should provide some extremely interesting and exciting games as the eight member schools battle for their share of glory.

Family Plan For G.H.S. Basketball Games

A change in admission prices to basketball games was decided on following the conference meeting held Monday, Nov. 16th. To bring admission prices in Grayling in line with the remainder of the conference, adults will be charged $1.00; students, 50c at the door, but an advanced sale of student tickets will be held at the high school at which students may purchase tickets for 35c.

Due to this increase in prices it was decided by the Athletic Board to try a family plan of prices for parents and in-school children of Grayling Schools.

No local family is to pay more than $2.00 for admission to the regular season basketball games. Both parents plus their children who are attending Grayling schools will be admitted for $2.00.

When one parent accompanies the children, the parent will pay the regular price, plus the admission price of the Grayling school children up to a total of $2.00.

She in attempting to stop skidded on the slippery street surface and the side of the car hit Klinkman. will bring up to date farm statistics last collected in 1959. Here are a few of the many facts recorded in the 1959 farm census for this County:

There were 36 farms in 1959, compared with 51 in 1954. The average size of farm was 190.5 acres in 1959, compared with 228.1 acres in 1954.

The value of products sold by the County's farmers in 1959 was $32,663. The value of all crops sold was $11,318. The value of all livestock and livestock products sold was $21,345.

The 1964 national Census of Agriculture is the 18th in a series which began in 1840. Because of the rapid changes American agriculture has been undergoing in recent years, Census Bureau officials regard the current census as one of the most significant ever taken. They ask every farmer to cooperate in compiling an accurate record of these changes by filling out the census form he receives in the mail and holding the completed questionnaire until a census taker calls for it.

More Than Enough

We are the most prosperous people the world has ever seen! Even the poor among us live in princely comfort compared to some in other lands. Our country is famous for its beauty and fruitfulness, our cities are as modern as tomorrow, and our future glows with promise. God has indeed been good to us.

But with His bounty of wealth and power, God has given us responsibilities. Because we have so much, we are called upon to share what we can spare. And we are required to work and pray for the end of ignorance, poverty and suffering wherever they are found.

To be able to give is a blessed privilege. Let us fill our churches and join in heartfelt thanks to God that we have enough... and more than enough... to share.

A Look At Education . . .

Education in all its many ramifications — its extent, adequacy, quality, cost, emphasis, economic value to society and the individual, and so on and so on — is and has long been an almost universally discussed subject in this country. That is as it should be — ever since our beginnings as a sovereign people we have pride ourselves on the educational opportunities offered our youth, all the way from the kindergarten to the graduate school.

Now the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has issued a valuable and informative report — the third of its kind since 1944 — called "Education, an Investment in People". And the substance of it is that there needs to be an increase in the general level of education of Americans if our standard of living is to continue to improve.

A profound change is taking place in the make-up of the population. The 25-64 year age group is steadily shrinking as a proportion of the whole, and it is upon this group that the country depends almost entirely for the production of goods and services. So, says the report, as it declines as a part of the population, it's productivity must be stepped up through education — and through automation too — to keep that living standard rising.

The individual, as well as society as a whole, has a very direct stake in this. Joblessness, the report shows, appears to be directly related to education. Those who have completed 4 years or less of school have a jobless rate of 9.7 per cent, compared with 5.1 per cent for those who completed high school and only 1.4 per cent for those who completed college. And, naturally enough, education is directly related to earnings. High school students on an average can expect to earn $32,000 more over their lifetimes than dropouts. And this difference increases as additional education is gained.

Beyond that, the more education a person has the greater the interest he takes in public affairs. About nine out of ten college graduates voted in the 1956 presidential election, where as only about half of those who failed to complete grade school voted. And national defense, as one would expect, benefits materially from good education. The ratio of men rejected for the draft is highest in the regions where high school dropouts are most frequent, lowest in the regions where they are fewest.

The advances made in education over the years are statistically impressive by any standard. In a little more than 90 years, the percentage of youths graduating from high school increased from two per cent to about 70 per cent at present. In a late year, more than 46 million young persons were enrolled in schools of all kinds; by 1980, the figure may reach 75 million or more.

So the figures go. And there can be no question the people of this country, working through their state and local governments, have been generous indeed in providing educational facilities and opportunities. In the 1961 fiscal year, for instance, these governments spent $20 billion for primary and secondary education. And at the beginning of the 1962-63 school year, 1,438,000 classrooms were available in public elementary and secondary schools, of which a whopping 63 per cent had been built in the preceding 20 years.

A reader of the report gains the belief that the American system of public education, with its strong basis in local administration and decision, has been an outstanding success — and that the improvements which the Chamber finds are needed will be made.

The other day I dropped in at the Avalanche office and I think O. P. was glad to see me. He asked me to write something for the paper, so here goes: "Glad to get back home, even if I did have to elude would-be get-eveners now and then. Being community-minded I dropped in on the school carnival last week and was shocked to find how old I'm getting. Folks who were kids when I was there were there to watch their kids and some who were youngsters in my time were there to keep an eye on their youngsters' youngsters. Could feel my toupee growing grayer and grayer. Spent Saturday evening tagging at Zauel's. (The spouse was away on a hunting expedition.) Again I was taken aback by the fact that I'm growing old and feeble. Kids like Thelma Papendick, Natalie Peterson, Aileen Larson, Pat McKenna all grown up and enjoying the dancing. (Should you have forgotten, this letter was written by Mrs. Wendell Geister (Effie Hunter) of Mt. Morris, who at one time wrote the column "Among the Clerks" by J. Wellington Bunsford.)

This gave the members a brief idea of the customs and foods of our 50th state.

Moose Lodge Activities

Saturday evening, we had our Fall Charity Festival. Proceeds will go to A.L.S.A.C. to help crippled children.

Friday evening we had our regular meeting, and also our first social meeting night for this year. There was a nice group present, to enjoy cards, sandwiches and refreshments and some good old fashioned visiting. We also had a few fines handed out at our regular meeting, some of which resulted in a few laughs.

The Club will be closed all day Thanksgiving.

Our deer list at the club keeps getting larger every day.

We have had lots of members in from other lodges the past week, mostly due to the deer season, but we've had a number of non-hunters in also.

Pocket calendars for 1965 are available at the club, free.

M. Y. O. NEWS November 18. The meeting was held with much business discussed. Three new officers elected were Julie Harwood, Shirley Horning and Mary Muth. We added one new member, Bill Muth. After the business meeting there were a few others who stopped in to look over the club. We would like to see a few more kids yet.

A marching drill team was set up to march in a parade in Muskegon. They also have a M. Y. O.

There will be no social night November 25, due to Thanksgiving. Our next business meeting will be on December 2. We would like to see more of you attend meetings. You may think all we do is dance. Well, you may be wrong. We have some other enjoyments for you too.

See you at our next meeting, Dec. 2 at the Moose Hall.

U. S. Forest Service Aids Deer Herd

A good crop of acorns, a mild winter, and multiple-use management of the land provided hunters on the Mio District of the Huron National Forest with a fine deer harvest during the current season. According to J. K. Adams, District Ranger, the needs of the deer herd and other wildlife species are always given consideration in the management of National Forest lands.

For instance, during August and September of this year, nine wildlife openings and 10 miles of logging roads were top dressed with fertilizer to stimulate previously established clover and fescue. Most of this work was carried out in the isolated Maltby Hills Area of Oscoda and Ogemaw counties. Some work was done near Smith Bridge in Crawford County. These openings had been disked, fertilized and initially seeded a year ago.

In addition, while the Accelerated Public Works program was in swing last year, 20 miles of old railroad grades and logging roads were brushed out for hunter use.

Other wildlife planning on National Forest lands involves the setting aside of unplanted open areas and oak and aspen stands during each year's planting program. This insures food, cover, and a varied habitat for wildlife in future years while planted areas are maturing.

The Forest Service wildlife management program is part of the Multiple use of National lands for the production of water, wood, recreation, forage and wildlife.

Sal Truettner announced that the first Winter Carnival planning meeting will be held at 2:00 p. m., Wednesday, Nov. 18th at Wert's Lone Pine Inn.

Motion by Marvin Miller and seconded by Sal Truettner that these minutes be approved. All Ayes.

Motion by Billy Forbes that this meeting be adjourned at 9:10 p.m. Next meeting to be held December 10th, 1964.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

In reply to last week's letter to the editor "Name withheld by request" I'd like to say, I wholeheartedly agree with you there is a very big need for a nursing home for the elderly, and one which no doubt could be a reality.

May I suggest you form a committee of other people like yourself who are very interested in getting a nursing home for the sick and elderly. Don't wait for someone to appoint you. Take it upon yourself.

If Lewis Stillwagon had waited for someone to appoint him, the Winter Sport park would not have become the Grayling Community Recreation Area and we would not have this lovely Play area. Besides the play area, this park will bring better economy to the area, as any time that many people ski, eat, sleep etc. in your community, there is bound to be a lot of money left in the area.

Also it is planned that the new park will employ from 60 to 100 people which will help everyone. Even some of the old grandmothers like myself are learning to ski too. We won't ever make the Olympics but it is fun and relaxing which many people need in their busy schedules.

I am also on a Housing Commission for Grayling which is now trying to get a 50 apartment building for the elderly where those who like can live in nice modern apartments and not have to shovel snow, build fires, etc., for very nominal rent and should also give them a certain amount of companionship when they want it and when they choose to be alone, they can go back to their own apartment. This is also the work of another committee.

It is not possible for the very same people to be on every committee in town. Some at present are working very hard for the Library. That does not mean that that is more important to them than the older people but each of us can only spread ourselves so far.

Again might I suggest, you form a committee of yourself and others who are interested in the nursing home. Lots of people have expressed interest. First, I would suggest your committee meet with Sister Janice at the Hospital as I know she had some fine ideas along this line. Perhaps she can help you work along this solution. Then meet with your Board of Supervisors, I have found them most cooperative. Then with your Congressman and Senator and see what funds, grants or loans are available for such a project, and with lots of newspaper publicity, which Mr. Strong is very happy to give you, you will make headway. This is how the Winter sports, the Apartment House for Senior Citizens, and all other community improvements have had their beginning.

Grayling has improved so much in the last 13 years. I notice so many wonderful things just since we came here in 1951. New schools, both public and Catholic, additions on churches and new churches, 100% improvements on business buildings, new sewers, new city hall in the making, new American Legion and bowling alleys, club houses, new filtration plant, a new library in the making and lots more. Grayling is definitely going ahead and people have gotten over the idea "we never did it before".

You will find many to help you on your project which is sure a fine one, and which we definitely need, so form a committee and start the ball rolling. It will take lots of meetings, lots of long distance phone calls, lots of letters, and lots and lots of work but the satisfaction you get from your heart in knowing how much you helped make a Nursing Home for Grayling a reality will well be worth the effort. Good Luck.

Lora Gould

Bits O' Talk

Kevin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald LaMotte, was two years old on November 12th. His mother invited in thirteen little playmates for the afternoon, and many of the guests' mothers too. They enjoyed playing, and birthday cake with ice cream. A second celebration was held with Kevin's grandparents in the evening.

James (Mike) McDougall of Wayne shot a seven-point buck the opening morning. It weighed 150 pounds. He was here with his wife Ruby and family for the first two days of deer season. Andy Canfield was also home for those two days hunting deer and visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Glen Raup left Sunday to spend the winter months at Holly Hill, Florida, taking care of her sister, Mrs. Margaret Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fay and Toni have moved from the Weinert house on Chestnut Street into the Wiche house on Erie Street formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Searles visited his brother Jim and family in Escanaba for a couple of days recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Harnack of Pontiac and the latter's mother were at their cottage during deer season for some hunting.

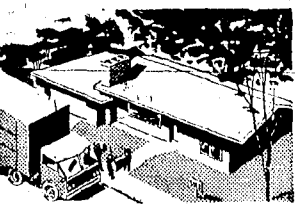

Mr. and Mrs. John Schofield and children of Beaverton spent the weekend with her parents, the Arthur Wakeleys and visiting his parents, the John Schofields. They were here for the opening days of deer season also.

Ron Pickard and his father Clinton Pickard of Monroe spent Friday to Wednesday of last week visiting the former's parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Burch, and deer hunting.

Mrs. Alvin Moore attended funeral services for Mrs. A. J. Walcutt in Harletta, Michigan, November 16th. Mrs. Walcutt, age 88, was the mother of former Grayling Fish Hatchery Superintendent Joseph Southwick. Carolyn Barker was one of the nurses on duty when Mrs. Walcutt was confined to the Cadillac Hospital before her demise.

Gunnery Mate 3rd Billy K. Foster, who is stationed in Puerto Rico, is enjoying a thirty day leave. He is spending a week here with his mother, Mrs. F. W. Foster at Fay's Motel.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wagner of Mason spent the first week of deer hunting season at their cabin north of Kellogg's Bridge. They had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clem and son Richard and Mrs. Clem's father, Albert Clark, also of Mason.

Before you move in know the facts about insurance

Fact 1: Fire insurance alone on home and contents is not enough. Your home could be destroyed by windstorm, explosion or other hazard.

Fact 2: Theft coverage of your possessions, at home and away, should be included.

Fact 3: A lawsuit judgment against you could cost you everything you own. You need liability insurance.

Fact 4: You get all this and more in one Homeowners policy... with one low premium!

Have you priced a tiger lately?

Take the GTO, for instance. Comes with 335 hp. Or 360 at extra cost. Plus bucket seats, Carpeting-Walnut dash, Quick Wide-Track Tires And like that. Yet it sells for less than a lot of pussycats with imitation stripes. Then there's the Le Mans. Same kind of pizzazz. Same kind of crackle. Same kind of low price. Slightly smaller teeth. So price a tiger.

We're building Wide-Tracks again! See them all at your authorized Pontiac dealer now!
